"Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them." (Isaiah 1:23)

REAGAN -VS- KHADAFY

"There he goes again." Reagan's newest production features himself along with Moammar Khadafy, his Libyan co-star. This is an adventure feature which portrays the U.S. government as "the policeman of the world," and the Arabs as "the bad guys." Khadafy is portrayed as representing the bad guys, and Reagan as representing the good guys. Of course, the whole production is based upon fiction.

Did anyone happen to notice exactly when it was that our government stopped representing the American people and started representing international bankers and the B'nai B'rith? It is obvious that the interests of the American people are not the motive behind Reagan's latest move in the Middle-East.

Reagan has taken it on himself to enforce international law way over there in Libya's Gulf of Sidra. Khadafy had said he didn't want hostile, armed ships, namely the U.S.'s Sixth Fleet, to enter the Gulf which is surrounded on three sides by Libya. Reagan and his staff say they want to punish Khadafy for "supporting international terrorism." The plan has been in the works for some time now. A few months ago, Reagan ordered all Americans to get out of Libya. He then had The Sixth Fleet begin "maneuvers" near the Gulf of Sidra, obviously in preparation for the confrontation that is in progress at the time of this writing.

On the 24th and 25th of April, American ships in the Gulf of Sidra successfully incited the Libyans to fire upon them. According to U.S. reports, the Libyan missiles missed. In "retaliation," U.S. planes and ships have thus far destroyed four Libyan ships in the Gulf and some missile sites in Libya. We'll have to wait to see what the second act of this play will bring us.

Who benefits from this maneuver? Certainly not America. Reagan's move into the Gulf of Sidra was clearly nothing but provocation providing Khadafy with an opportunity to react. The following quotation from the L.A. Times is very enlightening:

"Contrary to official administration statements that the naval exercises were peaceful in intent and that the United States hoped that Libya would not respond, knowledgeable officials said that Shultz (Secretary of State) and Poindexter (national security adviser) chose the maneuvers three months ago as a long-sought chance to use American military power against a sponsor of terrorism."

'We would have been disappointed if Khadafy had sent nobody up to challenge us,' said one official who participated in the planning. 'It was provocation, if you want to use that word. While everything we did was perfectly legitimate, we were not going to pass up the opportunity to strike.'"

The United States is out of line. She is creating problems instead of solving them. U.S. policy in the Middle-East has been one of unconditional support for the Zionists, and unconditional condemnation for the Arabs. The policy is patently unfair and is the source of all the unrest in the Middle-East. Israeli Zionism is the foremost problem in world politics, and America has taken their side. If America would stop supporting Israeli Zionism the problems at hand would diminish by about 90%. If America continues to support Israeli Zionism the only way to peace is to wipe out several Arab nations and several million Arabs. Is that where we are headed? God forbid!

Now, this current confrontation was arranged in order to cover up America's obvious abuse of power in the Middle-East, via Zionism. By means of dialectic manipulation, they hope to cause a specific reaction internationally. They hope to cause the Arab nations to unite against the U.S. so they can brand the whole Arab world as a nest of "terrorists." This, then, will serve to prove that our government's present anti-Arab sentiment is justified. The One-Worlders know that Israeli Zionism depends solely upon sympathy and support from America. Therefore, they must make Americans believe that Anti-Zionist Arabs are bad people.

My guess is that the One-Worlders are using Khadafy just as they use Reagan. Khadafy and his followers are playing right into their hands. But why single out the Arabs for persecution? Arabs are not naturally anti-American. In fact, they are anti-communistic. The laws of their land are from the Koran (their holy book) and the Laws of Moses. They recognize and honor Jesus, don't believe in usury banking, and historically have been friends with the Christian West. That's not too bad a record for a people who are supposed to be "bad."

By contrast, their mortal enemies, the Israeli Zionists whom Reagan calls "our only allies in the Middle-East," are communistic, they ignore Biblical laws, hate Jesus, and live mostly on usury they extract either from banking interests or government grants from America. Boy, America really knows how to pick her friends doesn't she?

"But Arabs are terrorists," you say. Phooey! Would you call a trapped animal, with no way to escape, a terrorist for trying to defend itself and its offspring from attack? I've seen doe deer fight off coyotes who were trying to kill their fawns. They attack the threatening coyote with all their might. Of course, the coyotes probably think of them as mean old terrorists, depriving them of a warm meal. Communists call the Afghan freedom fighters terrorists.

Who is initiating the assault? Not the Arabs. They are reacting to a larger assault initiated by larger forces. Arabs don't get their kicks by terrorizing. "Terrorists" are not on missions of fun and enjoyment. They are sacrificing themselves because they truly believe that their people are in danger. What the West calls "terrorism" is not a preferred lifestyle for Arabs, I don't care what your preacher or news broadcaster tells you. How would you like to put your life on the line in a mission to try to get someone, anyone, to recognize the desperation of your people?

Westerners ought to begin to get the picture. Those who watched any of the airline hijackings should have noticed one thing: after their first real introduction to the problem as seen from the Arab's side, many of the hostages returned home sincerely sympathetic to the plight of the Arabs. I believe there would have been even more hostages who would have spoken out on behalf of the Arabs if it weren't for the government's debriefing and reorientation exercises that the hostages must go through upon their return. In those exercises, government agents apparently convince the hostages that the "terrorists" don't deserve sympathy. Of course, the hostages are given the red carpet treatment and praised for their cooperation with the government. Nonetheless, there have been several who stood their ground, insisting that we should at least hear the Arab's side.

WITNESSES FROM THE MIDDLE-EAST: Americans often speculate about a possible enemy invasion. Visions of the cruelty of barbarian alien invaders have plagued fathers who worry about what may happen to their wife and children. In America, we are still speculating about military invasion and occupation; it hasn't happened yet. At this point, Babylon has invaded America through politics, finance, psychology, and religion but hasn't yet used military force. We pray that Jesus will bring repentance in our people to get our house in order before "the thing which we greatly fear comes upon us," (Job 3:25).

In Palestine they don't speculate. There is no need. Reality has replaced speculation. Since 1948, invasion, death, loss of family and home, loss of hope and future have become daily realities. Americans who visit Palestine can see for themselves what it is like to be invaded and occupied.

The following information about Palestine will hopefully keep a few Christians from being fools. This article was written by Al Van Dyk, a Christian minister who visited Lebanon just before the Israeli invasion in 1982.

WHOSE SIDE IS GOD ON?

As the Boeing 747 roared down the runway at the Los Angeles International Airport, I sensed that this would be an unusual trip. Just a few weeks before, someone had invited me to go on this trip to Lebanon with some other ministers to learn about the Palestinian situation. I accepted the invitation because I wanted to learn first hand about the Mid-East conflict for my speaking and writing ministry.

The trip to Lebanon was my third journey to the Mid-East. I went to Israel on the two previous trips, where I observed conditions there and talked and mixed with the people extensively all over that country. In addition to talking with Jews and learning about the land, customs, and beliefs, I also talked with many Palestinians living in Israel.

I have been asked to comment about my trip to Lebanon. That's what this article is about. Please keep in mind that, as a minister of the Gospel, I do not take sides on political issues. I also do not judge any person, group, or nation because that is for the Lord to do. However, the facts and conditions which I saw are true and should be of interest to anyone who wants to know what is really going on in the Mid-East.

In 1948, The United Nations granted a part of Palestine to become a homeland for Jews. There was, however, one big problem with the 1948 grant: the Palestinians who lived in Palestine did not want to give up their homeland for a Jewish state, however they were willing to have the Jews live among them as they were already doing. When the Jews officially took over parts of Palestine in their newly granted land, war resulted between the Palestinians, the long time residents, and the Jewish newcomers. Hostilities between these two groups of people have not ceased since 1948.

The Jews maintain that Israel, or Palestine (the Palestinians still refer to this land as Palestine although the Jews call their new land by the name Israel) rightfully belongs to them because it was promised to them under Abraham, the father of their race (sic). Abraham, however, is also the father of the Palestinians through Ishmael, and the Palestinians maintain the land belongs to them because they have lived there for thousands of years before "Israel" was a nation.

Not only did the Jews take over that part of Palestine which was granted to them in 1948 by the United Nations, they have since also taken over the remainder of Palestine, leaving the Palestinians totally without a homeland.

The P.L.O. (Palestinian Liberation Organization) was formed to try to recapture part of the land which the Palestinians had lost to the Jews. The Palestinians have tried in many ways since 1948 to liberate a part of Palestine so their people can return from the refugee camps in Lebanon. The actions of the P.L.O. seem to be a way for them to notify the world of their plight in order to receive help. The Palestinians have often asked for other nations to help them.

As I talked with leaders of the P.L.O. and observed conditions among the Palestinians, certain facts about them repeatedly emerged. In brief, here is what I learned:

1. The Palestinians have been driven from their homeland and are now living in refugee camps in Lebanon. Conditions are crowded with inadequate facilities for proper human habitation.

2. Thousands of Palestinians are maimed and crippled from the fighting between Israel and the P.L.O.

3. I saw scores of orphan children. There are thousands who have lost both fathers and mothers in the war.

4. Thousands of defenseless Palestinian women and children as well as men have been murdered by Israeli bombs, strafing and shelling of refugee camps.

5. I was appalled to learn of the torture inflicted on Palestinian prisoners by the Israeli military.

6. The Palestinians are a friendly and hospitable people. They do not seem hostile, threatening or aggressive.

7. The Palestinians seem to really want peace. Their acts of violence and "terrorism" are in reaction to injustice done to them, and with the hope that it will do some good and return them to their homeland.

8. The Palestinians need Jesus Christ like everyone else in the world. This is their greatest need.

9. The only real solution for the Palestinians and for the entire world is the Kingdom of God. No human effort either by individuals or nations will bring lasting peace. The only real and lasting peace is through the "Prince of Peace" and the Kingdom of God.

This is a very different picture of the Mid-East scene than what is generally presented to Americans by the Media.

The facts in this article come from my visit to Lebanon prior to Israel's invasion of that country and their attack on the P.L.O on June 6, 1982. Presently - the end of June-Israel is still in Lebanon. Thousands of Palestinians and Lebanese have been killed in recent weeks, many of them in the refugee camps. Tens of thousands are fleeing for their lives from the cruel Jewish onslaught.

This description came from an unbiased minister who saw the situation, in person, before the 1982 invasion. Things are considerably worse today. The Jews have destroyed and killed with impunity, thanks to the backing they receive from western media and American politics.

One of the bloodiest events in the Jewish crusade against Lebanon was the massacre at the Sabra and Shatilla refugee camps. The following account, for the record, reveals the Israeli hatred and cruelty toward Palestinians.

SABRA AND SHATILLA: EYEWITNESS ACCOUNT I

(Radio report by Loren Jenkins of the Washington Post, transcribed from "All Things Concerned," National Public Radio, September 20, 1982)

NOAH ADAMS: Washington Post reporter, Loren Jenkins, has been to Shatilla Refugee Camp, the site of the massacre, several times during the past few days. Today he told us what he found on his first visit.

LOREN JENKINS: It looks like something out of someone's worst dream. Buildings broken, bodies lying in the street, people in alleyways crumpled in great big piles. Walls where eight or nine people have been lined up and shot and they have fallen down. Seeing a family that was shot near a courtyard. Obviously the man had come to answer the gate and was shot right there and the woman that was shot right next to him—she still had her dinner plates in her hand crumpled on the ground; babies in diapers next to them with bullet holes in their heads. Bodies that have been booby-trapped, grenades placed under them, so when people come in to pick them up, they are going to get killed, too. It's just a horror; it's just hard to imagine.

NOAH ADAMS: What is going on in the camps today?

LOREN JENKINS: The International Red Cross and local Red Cross groups finally began coming in today to pick up the bodies. They have collected somewhere over 100 bodies already, though there are still untold numbers in the mass graves in the rubble of ruins. They had stretched out the bodies at the edge of the camp.

NOAH ADAMS: Loren, have you been able to get any more information as to who actually did the shooting?

LOREN JENKINS: Yes, it is very clear. It is very easy to find people here saying it was a mixture of two groups. Both of them Christian Militia groups who have been trained and armed by the Israeli government. Major Haddad and his group who have come up from the South, and you have a group of what looks like a break-away group from the major Christian Militia, the Lebanese Forces, as it is known, which was the militia group built up by Bashir Gemayel of the Phalange Party, the man that was assassinated last week. It seems that these groups—that with his death—that he had held control of, have now broken loose and have become laws unto themselves.

NOAH ADAMS: How many of Major Haddad's men is it estimated came?

LOREN JENKINS: Well, it is estimated two battalions which could be anywhere between 1,000 and 1,500 men. They came up Thursday afternoon, they came up from the South, and they came down from East Beirut as they turned into the Israeli-occupied Beirut International Airport area where they were assembled, and then they were led in a long caravan up north of the airport and into the Bir Hassan neighborhood. The Israeli Army that surrounded that place had surrounded the place from Wednesday when they invaded West Beirut, pulled out of the southern road and encircled the camp and turned that over to the Christian Militia groups, and they went into the camps Thursday night. Doctors in the camps report that the camps were lit by flares. We do not know whether the Israelis provided that added benefit of light or whether the local groups had their own flare machines. But the whole camp was lit all night by flares. There were shots, and the first casualties began coming into local hospitals. One was a boy I had interviewed, named Milaad Farouk, an 11-year-old, who was one of the first brought in Thursday night. He had a bullet wound in his leg, one finger had been shot off, another bullet hole in his arm. He told us that he was sitting down at dinner with his family and the door burst open and in came these men who started firing. He was a lone survivor. One can go on with these stories forever.

NOAH ADAMS: Do you have any doubt now of the complicity of the Israeli Defense Forces there?

LOREN JENKINS: There is no doubt in my mind that Israel aided and abetted that whole operation! These troops were trained by them; they are equipped by them; these men passed through Israeli lines; they set up their command post just next to the Israeli command post. They came in and out of the camps. They were fed by the Israeli Army, given water between their shooting sprees, and went back into the camp. The final proof to me was when I walked and found what was a mass grave in a part of the camp, where when you stand just on top of that, and you raise your head, and you look up at a seven story building, about 300 yards away, which is the Israeli Army's main observation post, a place where before their own advance into the city, they had set up giant telescopes for spotting snipers. And, as I stood there Saturday morning looking up, there were six Israelis looking straight down at me. They stood and watched throughout this whole horrible tragedy as people were brought here, shot, dumped in this grave and packed up! This was a basically undefended civilian camp, there are reports of a few young men, even a couple of women having found guns and tried to resist. I did not see any evidence of that, but I hear it might have happened. Anyone who may have had a gun, may have fired at them, but there were no hard-core PLO cadres there, or you would have seen a lot of dead Christian militiamen. There were no Christians injured.

WITNESS FROM WASHINGTON: Senator Joseph McCarthy was a brave man. During the 1950's, his voice was heard from Washington D.C., taking the side of Americans against Communist infiltration on Capitol Hill and elsewhere. He has since been ridiculed and defamed by nearly every politician and critic.

The following article purports to be from a speech given by Senator McCarthy, six months before he died. If it is what it purports to be, we can see why he became the target for character assassination by the One-Worlders. Either way, the information it sets forth is worth repeating.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S SURRENDER

"And many of the people of the land became Jews" (Esther 9:17). The confession of General Cornwallis to General Washington at Yorktown has been well hidden by historians. History books and text books have taught for years that when Cornwallis surrendered his army to General Washington that American independence came, and we lived happily ever after until the tribulations of the twentieth century.

Johnathan Williams recorded in his LEGIONS OF SATAN, 1781, that Cornwallis revealed to Washington that "a holy war will now begin on America, and when it is ended America will be supposedly the citadel of freedom, but her millions will unknowingly be loyal subjects to the Crown." Cornwallis went on to explain what would seem to be a self contradiction: "Your churches will be used to teach the Jew's religion and in less than two hundred years the whole nation will be working for divine world government. That government that they believe to be divine will be the British Empire.

"All religions will be permeated with Judaism without even being noticed by the masses, and they will all be under the invisible all-seeing eye of the Grand Architect of Freemasonry." And indeed George Washington himself was a Mason, and he gave back through a false religion what he had won with his army.

Cornwallis well knew that his military defeat was only the beginning of world catastrophe that would be universal and that unrest would continue until mind control could be accomplished through a false religion. What he predicted has come to pass. A brief sketch of American religious history and we have seen Masonry infused into every church in America with their veiled Phallic religion.

Darby and the Plymouth Brethren brought a Jewish Christianity to America. Masons Rutherford and Russell started Jehovah Witnesses' Judaism which is now worldwide with their message of the divine kingdom. Mason Joseph Smith started Mormon Judaism with its Jewish teaching of millennialism. At the turn of the twentieth century there appeared the Scofield Bible with a Jewish interpretation of the prophecies. With the wide use of this "helpful" aid all the American churches have silently become synagogues. We now have Baptist Jews, Methodist Jews, Church of God Jews, Catholic Jews, and many Protestant Jews throughout America. We are aliens in our own country because of false religion. All are praying for divine deliverance into that "Divine Government" which Cornwallis knew to be the British Empire. A false religion has been used to deceive us into allegiance to our enemies of Yorktown and Bunker Hill.

No! Not a gun has been fired, but the invisible and malignant process of conquering America with the Jew's religion has gone unabated. The Union Jack has been planted in our hearts with religions deception. All this has happened "legally," "constitutionally," "freely" and completely within our most sacred trust - our churches. Religious deception is painless inoculation against truth. It cannot be removed from the conscience with surgery, yet it is the motivator of our actions and directly controls our lives. Once man gives over to false religion, he is no longer rational because he originates no thought. His life is controlled by whomever controls his religion.

The veil of false religion is the sword of Damacles and its power to control humanity defies even the imagination of tyrants who use it.

This is not to say that George Washington was a traitor willingly, or knowingly. He was beguiled into a satanic religious order that insidiously controls men's minds. So have American statesmen and military leaders down through the years given aid and allegiance to the enemies of the United States because they did not have knowledge of the invisible subterfuge that stalks this land. My eyes were opened the day my colleague from Ohio handed me Wagner's FREEMASONRY - AN INTERPRETATION. If every American would read it, they would no longer ask why and how it has happened.

JERRY FALLENWELL:

Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. Remember therefore from whence thou art FALLEN, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. (Rev. 2:4-5)

Why has George Bush enlisted Jerry Falwell in his campaign for presidency? Because when Jerry speaks, millions listen. His position is one of political power. The Moral Majority organization, his political mouthpiece, greatly influences millions of Christians in America. As far as his listeners are concerned, "What's good for General Jerry is good for the U.S.A.!"

He has political clout. Presidential candidates in America don't want him as an enemy. His political record is impressive. The two decisive victories for his man (Ronald Reagan) were impressive. In other words, the current flow of American politics seems to be amazingly compatible to his own preferences, thus he has the ear of an extremely large and growing section of American voters: namely, the Christian Conservatives. Any candidate for President would naturally want The Moral Majority in his camp. Right? I wonder what it takes for a candidate to get Jerry in his camp?

Several years ago, most conservative Christians would have never thought that Jerry Falwell would sell his soul to the anti-Christ. But then, apostasy is a subtle thing; almost unnoticeable at first. His recent past bears the earmarks of apostasy. These earmarks are becoming more and more noticeable.

Recently, conservative Christians were surprised to read articles in their local newspapers indicating that The Moral Majority is planning to support George Bush in the upcoming presidential election. This is the same George Bush who, back in the 1980 primaries, was David Rockefeller's choice for president; the same George Bush who likes the Tri-Lateral Commission, ERA, Israel's war on Arabia, The Genocide Treaty, and is a member of "The Order" ("The Brotherhood of Death"; "Skull and Bones"). How can a "Christian minister" support a presidential candidate with these and many more anti-Christ sympathies? It indeed appears that Jerry Falwell has abandoned Christianity (his first love) and has become a Republican. What do Bush and Falwell have in common?

Can two walk together, except they be agreed? (Amos 3:3)

Has Falwell made "a covenant with death and hell?" (Isaiah 28:15). By backing people who are notoriously anti-Christian, Falwell may one day find, with regard to his popularity and support from the Bible-believing conservative Christians, that he has shot himself in the foot. His loyalty to Christ, and Christ's Bride, has obviously taken a back seat to his loyalty to the White House. More and more solid Americans are recognizing that Jerry has indeed "left his first love." Otherwise, how could he bid "God speed" to George Bush? Falwell is supposed to know God's Word.

Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son. If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed: For he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds. (II John 9-11)

Jerry Falwell recently said that there is nothing evil about the Tri-Lateral Commission; that it is just an organization of entrepreneurs. He was also recently heard to say, in an apology to some well-known

HAT TRICK DIPLOMACY

Rabbis, that he was sorry that he had said "America is a Christian nation." In his retraction he made it very clear that he believes America's key to survival is to expend herself supporting and defending the international interests of Israel instead of herself.

This kind of political doctrine would have been considered traitorous to our Founding Fathers taught that America should not entangle herself in the endless wars of the European bankers. One must seriously question the motives of a man who claims to be a "conservative American Christian minister" but also sides with the One-Worlders who detest Christ, freedom, and American sovereignty. Which hat will Falwell wear?

Where both Jerry Falwell and Ronald Reagan are concerned, there seems to be a problem with word definitions. Both Reagan and Falwell say one thing, and do another. They claim to be conservatives, and then support liberal policy. They claim to be Americans, proud of their national heritage, but they refuse to stand up for American national interests. Are they talking in some kind of Orwellian double-speak? Are they Americans, or Internationalists? Who are they serving, the American People or International Bankers?

Ronald Reagan pushed to have the Genocide Treaty ratified. This treaty has potential of making it a crime to speak out against pagan religions. Jerry Falwell, aside from being a dyed-in-the-wool Reagan company man, has stated many times that America should be "pluralistic": a mixture of all religions and cultures. He says that America should mix cultures, but the Bible tells Christians something quite different:

Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? And what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? Or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God (Christian society) with idols? For ye (collectively) are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will receive you (II Corinthians 6:14-17).

What can be said about a man like Jerry Falwell who, on the surface, appears to be pursuing Christian moral values but drops his followers into the arms of International Communism? What if Mr. Falwell comes out against some of the easily-understood public issues like abortion and drug abuse? Does that give him the right to deceive his followers on the less easily-understood political issues? Falwell is like bait in a trap: he looks and sounds good, but as he lures people in, the trap closes on them. The lure of shallow morality is entrapping large sections of Americans into an International merry-go-round.

With the current U.S. Administration gearing up for world war, now is no time for lies and deception from America's pulpits. The citizens of The United States of America need men in their pulpits who will stand for Christ and His truth. We do not need two faced money seekers who must chase popularity to keep their multi-million dollar organizations rolling.

Perhaps when preachers and presidents become more adept in statesmanship than in advertisement, America will see some relief. God speed the day!
